Dear Ms. Nathalie Drummond:

Further to our previous letter, we are compelled to follow up with you on the status of our client, Mrs. Michelle Kind.

We have been informed that there are several irregularities in the transition of funds that we have been assisting her with. Specifically, she is being charged with embezzlement both here in Canada and in Switzerland. It seems the Canadian federal authorities are set to allow the Swiss authorities to proceed with the case as they have a stronger case against her. She is due to be taken into custody of the Swiss authorities and immediately out of country at 8pm on XXXXXXXX at YYJ airport after the paperwork and hearings have been cleared.

Strangely, she has been very unforthcoming with information that may allow us to assist her in fighting or even delaying her pending deportation and prosecution. Her main insistence has been of her own innocence and that we should deliver a series of books to you in order to assist her. The books seem to spread fairly widely though and we have some private investigators working to track them down.

As soon as we have them in our possession, our courier will deliver them to you.

Signed,

Partner / Senior Attorney
