

Vic Stories

The end.

Won't you?

Ho hum. Stay home.
Nothing happens

Will you?

Do you remember those Choose
Your Own Adventure books you read as a kid?

Uhhmm...

I do!

They have grown into a genre of literature called Interactive Fiction
Students at the University of Victoria have been working on interactive fiction projects about the films in this year's Victoria Film Festival.

These stories can be experienced in your web browser, or even better on your cellphone. When on your phone they can use your location as an element in the stories, creating a simple form of Augmented Reality.

It all starts at

But...

I don't want to know more.

But...

I want to write my own stories.

You can!
